COLLECTION AND USE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

We will generally let you know at the time of collection how we intend to use your personal information.

Usually, we collect personal information about you which we require to respond to your enquiries for payment processing and for the provision of goods and services to you. We also process your personal information where we are required to do so by law, and for the exercise or defense of legal claims.

From time to time, we may contact you for research purposes, or to tell you about our special offers and other services in accordance with your contact preferences. Where appropriate, we will obtain your consent to do so.

Personal information collected from you may include your name, payment processing information, postal address, email address, landline or mobile telephone number, delivery details as well as other non-sensitive personal information.

When attending a live event you will be issued with an RFID (radio frequency identification) chipped badge at registration, if your badge is scanned at the event you are providing consent for your contact details to be shared, should you not wish to share these details you can request a non-chipped badge at registration.

If you attend a session given by a sponsor and your badge is scanned this enables the sponsor to follow up with you post presentation regarding relevant information on products or services.
You may also be asked by a sponsor when visiting their stand if they can scan your badge, if you agree you are providing consent for them to follow up with you regarding relevant information on products or services which you may have discussed with them or they believe may be of interest to you.

If you use our web sites, we may also collect information about you or your computer when you browse to allow you to use the services available.

WEBSITE USAGE & COOKIES

If you are using our web sites, we will use your personal information to help you to log on to your account and into restricted areas of our web sites and to permit future use of the web sites. We may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, or to administer our web sites.

We may conduct analyses of user traffic to measure the use of our sites and to improve the content of our web sites and our services. These analyses will be performed through the use of IP addresses and cookies. We may also use cookies to enable the signing in process after you have registered with us and to provide you with more tailored information when you return to our web sites. A cookie is a piece of information that is stored on your computer’s hard drive by your web browser.

Most browsers accept cookies automatically, but usually you can alter the settings of your browser to prevent automatic acceptance. If you reject the use of cookies, please note that the efficient operation of the web site that you are using may be affected. Most of the advertisements that you see on the web sites are generated by third parties who may use cookies to track viewing of their advertisements and for other purposes specified in their own privacy policies.

We have no access to or control over these cookies (although we may use statistical information provided to us “not containing personal information arising” from these third party cookies to improve the targeting of advertisements to you and other users of the web sites).

You can obtain further information about third party privacy policies or disable their cookies by visiting their websites.

THIRD PARTY

We will only disclose personal information about you internally and to third parties for processing purposes associated with payment processing, the supply of goods and services, for web site administration, or elsewhere when you have consented to such disclosures, or where such disclosures are required or permitted by law.

These third parties we contractually bind only to use personal information to perform the services that we hire them to provide. Where you have agreed that we may do so, we may lease or rent your personal information to selected third parties for their postal or telephone marketing use.

TRANSFER OF DATA

Third party data processors, advertisers, sponsors, and other such business relationships outside of the EEA, are required to take adequate technical and organisational safeguards to protect personal information. We also take measures to ensure that personal information transferred by us outside of the EEA is adequately protected.

We comply with the Data Protection Act 1998. We will keep and use the personal information and payment details you supply to us to process your order; we may also use your email and other information to send newsletters and relevant communications. We shall keep that information secure and confidential while it is in our hands, but you are responsible for its secure transmission to us.

Engage Business Media Ltd is registered under the Data Protection Act and Information Commissioner’s Office as Engage Business Media Ltd.
VIRTUAL PRODUCTS
In the case of your use of one of our virtual products e.g. Virtual Events, Webinars etc, we may pass the information you provided to us to 3rd parties. Generally, this will be via a process whereby you, as the user, visit or interact with a 3rd party eg: visit a stand at an exhibition. However, in some instances our virtual products are sponsored and, in such cases the data you provided to us will be given to the sponsor. Generally, we will let you know at the time of collection if a product is sponsored.

If you wish to change your contact preferences with an individual sponsor/exhibitor, please follow their own unsubscribe request details. Unsubscribing to Engage Business Media Ltd will stop Engage Business Media Ltd from contacting you in the future, but not the individual 3rd parties whom you have interacted with.

We take your contact preferences very seriously. If you would prefer for your details not to be passed to any 3rd parties as laid out in this section, you are advised not to register for the virtual product.

SECURITY OF PERSONAL INFORMATION
We use administrative, technical, and physical measures to safeguard personal information against loss, theft and unauthorised uses, access or modifications. Certain areas of our web sites may be password protected. If you are a user of our web sites and have a password, you can help to preserve your privacy by ensuring that you do not share your password with anyone else.

We take steps to regularly validate the personal information we hold to ensure that the information is accurate and, where necessary, up to date. Information that is no longer required for any valid business purpose, and that we are not required to keep pursuant to any applicable law, will be routinely destroyed by secure means.

MAKING AUTOMATED DECISIONS
We do not ordinarily use personal information for the purposes of automated decision making. However, may do so in order to fulfill compelling obligations imposed by law, in which case we will inform of any such processing and provide you with an opportunity to object.

ACCESS TO PERSONAL INFORMATION
You may renew and update personal information that we hold about you by contacting us as detailed below.
